A very fine William & Mary Trefid Spoon made in London in 1690 by EH Crowned, with a crescent below.

Sold

REF: 182398

Mary Cooke Antiques Ltd
12 The Old Power Station, 121 Mortlake High Street, London, SW14 8SN
+44 (0)20 8876 5777

Description

This fine Spoon has a good bowl which displays a crisp beaded rat tail on the reverse. The Trefid stem is very well marked and engraved with a set of contemporary prick dot initials. This piece has a very good colour. The makers mark is illustrated on page 131 of Jackson. Timothy Kent in London Silver Spoonmakers 1500-1697 states that this maker could be Edward Hubbald, apprenticed to Jeremy Johnson in 1652, or Edward Harrison, apprenticed to James Lapley in 1669. Kent highlights that this individual appears to have been a specialist spoonmaker of skill.

Length: 7.5 inches, 18.75 cm.

Mary Cooke Antiques Ltd
12 The Old Power Station, 121 Mortlake High Street, London, SW14 8SN
+44 (0)20 8876 5777