

CHESTER. A rare George II Sparrow Beak Jug made in Chester in 1740 by Richard Richardson II.

Sold

REF: 163590

Description

The Jug stands on a circular stepped foot which is decorated with a reeded band. The main body is baluster shaped in form and rises to a slightly everted rim which is also decorated with a reeded band. This piece has a cast sparrow beak pouring spout, with drop beneath, and a plain scroll handle, which is engraved with contemporary initials.

Height: 3.3 inches

Length, handle to spout: 3 inches.