

An extremely fine & rare George III Silver mounted Cream Bowl & Cover made in London circa 1780 by Thomas Phipps & Edward Robinson.

Sold

Description

The glass bowl is modelled in the Classical tradition, as a covered urn, and stands on a square pedestal foot with cut corners. The oval main body is faceted and is engraved with horizontal linear bands. The sides rise to a silver scalloped rim decorated with beading and engraved with bright cut designs. The high domed cover has a silver base, also decorated with bright cut engraving, and terminates in a writhen finial.

This piece is in quite excellent condition and the side is cut for a ladle to serve the cream. Phipps & Robinson were exceptional silversmiths who specialised in fine silver mounted pieces, as well as small wares such as snuff boxes, vinaigrettes and wine labels. Height: 8.5 inches. Length: 6 inches. Width: 4.1 inches.
