

An extremely fine & rare George IV Souffle Dish made in London in 1830 by William Eaton.

Sold

Description

This George IV example was made in London in 1830 by William Eaton and as you can see from the images is circular in form with a raised everted rim decorated with reeding. This example has two naturalistic side handles decorated with acanthus foliage. The front of the main body is engraved with a contemporary Armorial, all surrounded by a pluming scroll cartouche. The interior silver liner is fully hallmarked, has a gadrooned rim and is engraved with a contemporary Crest. The Arms and Crest are those of Thorold of Marston, Co. Lincs, created Baronets of England in 1642. This ancient and prominent Lincolnshire gentry family was founded in the county when a Yorkshire Knight, Sir Richard Thorold of Selby, married Joan, daughter and sole heiress of Robert de Hough, of Marston, in 1379. The Arms are specifically those of John Charles Thorold, who succeeded his father as the 11th Baronet in 1831. In 1841 Sir Charles married Elizabeth Frances, third daughter of Colonel Thomas Blackburn Thornton-Hildyard of Flintham Hall, County Notts. He died in 1866. As you will appreciate, the soufflé is cooked in the liner and then is placed in the outer decorative jacket when it is brought to the table. If not being used for Soufflé's you would be able to use them as two serving dishes. Length, handle to handle: 10.25 inches, 25.63 cm. Height: 3.25 inches, 8.13 cm. Weight: An outstanding 40oz.
