

A very fine George III "Onslow" Caddy Spoon made in London circa 1780 by William Brockwell.

Sold

Description

This is one of the first caddy spoon designs to be produced in London during the late 18th century. This piece has a fluted shell bowl, with incuse sides where it joins the bi-furcated "Onslow" pattern scroll handle. The spoon is in excellent condition and is very well marked with the WB maker's mark for William Brockwell, circa 1780.

Length: 3.1 inches, 7.75 cm.

Width of the bowl: 1.5 inches, 3.75 cm.