

A very rare William IV Sauce Label made in London in 1834 by Rawlings & Summers.

Sold

Description

The narrow rectangular style sauce label is very seldom seen on the market. This example has a plain, very slender, design with raised eyelets. This piece is in excellent condition, is very well marked on the reverse and is in excellent condition. A set of eight of this style was illustrated by Lady Ruggles-Brise in "Country Life" for the 19th June, 1942 at page 1186.

Length: 1.45 inches, 3.63cm.